Read the Labels. The pure food and drug law was designed for the protection of all, but it only protects those who read labels.

The law prevents false claims—on the labels—not in the advertising. The law makes the label tell if the medicine contains alcohol. Not so in the advertisement.

Read the Label

The law specifies a list of such drugs as are considered dangerous unless prescribed by a physician, such as opium morphine, cocaine, acetanelid. canabis indica, chloral, arsenic, strychnine, etc., and makes the LABEL tell if any of them are contained in the medicine. The advertising does not have to. Therefore when buying medicine

Read the Label The next time you are inclined to buy a tonic or a temedy for any of the ills that come from impure, impoverished or acid blood, ask your druggist to let you read the label on a bottle of MILAM. This preparation has no rival. If you suspect any other preparation of being in its class, Read the Label. Look for a guarantee of benefit. Look for ALCOHOL and other dangerous and habit forming ingredients. Any preparation can claim what we claim in their advertising: NONE CAN on their labels.

READ THE LABELS!

WEEKLY SHORT STORY

TOBIN PLANS A HOLIDAY.

By A. Howard.

Tobin Oliver, the artist, lived with his mother and little sister Clarissa, in a rather nice boarding house; so nice, indeed, that in order to met the board bill the Olivers had to tuck themselves away in two tiny rooms on the fourth floor back.

Tobin was a patient, kindly person, with hair thinning on his temples and a stoop to his shoulders which made him look very much older than he should, for he was still very young. When he was a boy he had had dreams, even as other young artists have, of painting pictures that would astound the world; but now that his father was dead and he had his mother and sister to support, he chiefly dreamed of dodging the laundryman, and spent his idle moments in figuring how to pay for Clarissa's schooling.

These calculations allowed of no margins for expensive recreation, yet Tobin was contemplating a piece of wild extravagance. Thus it was pardeliberately abandoning her pose, sey turned her pelading eyes upon him. "Please, Tobin, can't I go to the Tobin's only model, and posed for everything he did, from fat policeman and colored mammies, to fashion plates and soothing syrup bables. She was draped over a chair now, with mirror and powder puff in hand, and Tobin was drawing her as an edverisement for American Belle Beautifying Cream. He had no intention of taking her to the circus, so he pretended to be very busy with his pic ture, and assiduously splashed the panit on the highly colored cheeks of the American belle.

But Clarissa was not thus easily silenced. She squirmed around in her chair and repeated insistently; "Please, Tobin, can't I go to the circus?"

If the American Belle was to be finished that day Clarissa must be humored, so Tobin answered discreetly: "I don't know whether you can or not. I'll think it over and see if it can be managed."

That quieted the trusting Clarissa, but Tobin began to feel shamefully decetful. He knew that he was not gong to take Clarissa to the circus as he had already planned to take some one else, the most precious person in the world. For in the front room of Mrs. Bosey's fourth floor lived Tobin's inspiration, she who would have been the lady of his dreams if he had ever had time for dreaming. This Diana Garland was an energetic, happy little woman, with red hair and snappy eyes, and though she smiled very often in public Tobin wisely suspected that she cried rather often in private. Teaching music in a third-rate boarding school is not the ideal existence for a girl, and whenever an anxious pucker appeared on Diana's white brow, Tobin knew that she was feeling rather forlorn. There was trouble at the boarding school one week and the pucker stayed so long on Diana's forehead that Tobin feared it was becoming permanent. He longed to comfort her, but there was nothing he could do until Diana remarked quite casually one morning that the circus was coming to town and that she would like to see the baby giraffe. That ave Tobin his opportunity. He knew it was a reckless waste of money, but what cared he for filthy lucre? He was too poor to offer Diana his hand and heart, but he could at least offer her a glimpse of the baby gi-

One wild act brings on another, and having determined to take Diana to the circus, Tobin found himself still further involved in financial embarrassments. The American Belle did not bring in as much as he had expected, and when he went to buy the tickets he found that he would have to use Clarissa's commission. As he supported Clarissa and willingly sacrificed his life to hers, there seemed no real reason why he should pay her for posing, but it had been his invariable custom to give her a frag-mentary share of all that he made on his pictures, In keeping back Clarissa's earnings Tobin felt as guilty as if he had robbed a bank, even though he promised himself that he would pay her back some day. However, he bought the tickets, bought them early in the week, for he knew by sad experience that money has a way of escaping even when you have made the best of plans for the future. Once they were purchased and safely stowed away in his pocket a change came over the artist, his conscience ceased to prick him and he felt strangely light-hearted, like a gay, irresponsible truant. In all the years of patient drudgery since his father died Tobin had taken no holidays, and now he reveled in the joys of anticipation. He looked at the tickets every morning to be sure that they were safe, but he said nothing to Diana, for it was to be a great surprise. Every Wednesday night Diana went with Tobin's rival, William Hutt, to a moving picture show, and every Saturday afternoon she walked with Tobin through the park. knew just how she would smile when he told her that, instead of walking in te park, they were to go to the circus together. Diana had a funny, sweet little smile that drove away the pucker from her brow. So pleasant was this thought that Tobin forgot all about Clarissa until the end of the week. On Friday night the end of the week. On Friday night he worked late at a downtown art exhibit, but on his way home he stopped to buy a bag of peanuts for the little gorl. Clarissa could not go to the circus but the circus hut the could feel the the circus, but she could feed the squirrels in the park.

The house was in inky darkness ticularly disconcerting when Clarissa when he reached home, for Mrs. Bowasted no gas on late arrivals, and it was only by groping cautiously along that Tobin mounted to the fourth floor. All was blackness there Clarissa was an uncomfortably except where a faint stream of light clever child, with a pretty, eager face, and frightfully long legs. She was watching that light and wondering

SECOND HAND

Bought and Sold

ANY KIND, ANY QUANTITY, ANYWHERE.

WRITE US WHAT YOU HAVE TO SELL WHAT YOU WANT TO BUY WE WILL DO THE REST.

RICHMOND BAG COMPANY 1110 E. Cary St., Richmond, Va.

When Your Eyes Need Care Murine Eye Remedy Co., Chicago

why Diana was up so late when the door opened and a girl creps out into the half. She closed the door behind her and again the hall was absolutely dark, but Tobin knew that she was coming toward him. He stood still, fascinated, and his heart began to pound loudly. Although he could see nothing, he could hear the soft swish of her garments as she approached He felt that he should go, but his strength seemed to have deserted him. Then in the darkness his hand touchtheid her and spoke quickly.

The girl stood still, they were alone in the darkness, the other boarders were peacefully snoring, and somehow Tobin's arms went around her. hidden in his coat, and Tobin who She leaned against him with her face had fought against his love so long and bravely, lost his senses for a time and began to tell her hurrfedly, hotly, all his longing for her.

ed hers. She drew away, but Tobin

If she made no answer she made no resistence, and rapturously he stooped and kissed her hair and fore-head. "Diana, darling," he begged, "say that you love me. I have no right to ask you, but say that you love me a little."

He held her against his heart, but with a sudden movement she leaner away from him and a match flared out in the darkness. Across its circle of light Tobin looked at the girl, and his arms slowly fell to his side. It was clarissa, her face all drawn up With suppressed giggles and in her the scornful, unsympathetic glare of a twelve-year-old.

"I went to Diana's room to get some matches," she explained in a whisper. "I think there's a mouse in our ward robe.

Then as the light flickered out she leaned toward him eagerly, insistent-"Tobin, if I promise not to tell the boarders will you take me to see the circus?" Tobin shook his head. "I don't care," he said doggedly, "who knows that I love Diana"

"Maybe not," continued Clarissa shrewdly, "but if the boarders know this they'll laugh at Diana."

So Clarissa went to the circus.

ANTI-BILIOUS MEDICINE. Elegantly sugar coated. Small dose. Price. 25c.

REACH TOP OF

SEATTLE, WASH .- Special. That of his success, is the word received by Mrs. George Browne, of Tacoma, mother of Belmore Browne, Professor Parker's companion, in a letter rerelived today from her son, cause of The letter, mailed April 15th, said pensities. that at that time the party was near the summit and had but little difficulty and would reach Cook's Inlet on its way outside before July 1st. Browen wrote that the passes used by the expedition were much easier than those discovered on previous expeditions, Two new glaciers had been found, and will be reported when

TWO PRENCH GUNS EXPLODE ON DECK

ONE FOLLOWS OTHER SO CLOSE-LY AS TO CAUSE RIGID INVESTIGATION.

TOULON, FRANCE. - Special .- An official investigation was begun Thursday in the bursting of two guns on the French cruiser Jules Michelet yes-terday, which resulted in the death of one gunner and serious injuries to two officers and seventeen men. Twelve of the seamen may die. While the government is attempting to keep all the facts in the case secret, the unofficial opinion is ex-pressed that the disaster was caused by deflagration of powder, which was also held to be the cause of the blowing up of the battleship Liberte bout a year ago.

The first explosion occurred in turret No. 5, when a gunbreach blew off, killing a man and wounding nine Practice firing was being held at the

After the debris had cleared away

the officers gave the command to continue firing, and within two hours a heavy gun in turert No. 8 expladed, wounding two officers and eight men. The practice was discontinued then and all the injured rushed ashore to a hospital.

Marine Minister Del Casse has ordered the most searching investigation in order to take precautions against similar accidents in the future.

WILL HOLD TRIAL OF CLAUDE AGAIN

Wythe County Officers Summoning Veniremen to Report for Possible Jury Service.

WYTHEVILLE, VA .- Special .-For several days deputy sheriffs have been riding the county, serving summonses on men to appear at the courthouse here next Monday to take courthouse here next Monday to take up the case of Claude Allen, the twenty-two-year-old son of Floyd Allen, who was engaged in the shooting up of the Carroll Circuit Court, March 14th last. The sheriff is calling for 100 men.

March 14th last. The sheriff is calling for 100 men.

Claude Allen, who has been sentenced to serve fifteen years in the penitentiary for the murder of Judge Thornton L. Massic, will be arraigned for trial on the charge of killing Sheriff L. M. Webb.

This was announced by the State late last evening. The State will keep on trying Claude Allen in the hope that he will be given the same punishment as that meted out to his father, Floyd Allen, who will go to the death chair for murder.

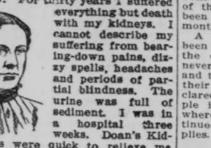

The defense will, as has been stated before, rely on the previous conviction of Claude Allen and hope to stay the prosecution on that plea. The prisoners, of whom three yet remain to be tried, will face the court separately. rately.

In Chicago the other night a pick-pocket relieved a member of the Na-tional Republican Committee of one thousand dollars in cash. Thus it ap-pears that "practical politics" has al-ready begun at Chicago.—Salem Times-Register.

A TERRIBLE ODEAL

Buena Vista Woman's Sufferings With Kidney Disease.

Mrs. Virginia Spitzer, Buena Vista, Va., says: "For thirty years I suffered everything but death with my kidneys. I cannot describe my suffering from bearing-down pains, dizzy spells, headaches ney Pills were quick to relieve me and made me well and strong. Mrs. Spitzer is only one of the many thousands that endorse Doan's Kid-ney Pills. If your back aches-if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy, ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills, the same that Mrs. Spitzer had."

50e. all stores. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., Props. "When Your Back Is Lame—Remember the name."

MRS. GWALTNEY

Virginia Woman Accused of Murder-ing Husband is Given Her Liberty. Was Not Responsible for Deed.

KENBRIDGE, VA.— Special.— Mrs. Alma C. Gwaltney has been acquitted of the murder of her husband on ctober 15th last. It was held that Mrs. Gwaltney was insane at the time of the homicide. The jury was out less than three min-

The hearing was marked by the The hearing was marked by the number of physicians who testified.
Dr. William F. Drewry and Dr. A. S. Priddy, insanity experts, gave it as their opinion that the accused was insane at the time of the commission of the deed, although she has since regained her reason.

BUBONIC PLAGUE HOLDS UP SHIP

FEAR THAT PORTO RICAN VES-SEL MAY CARRY INFECTED PASSENGERS OR CREW.

NEW YORK .- Special .- When the steamship Philadelphia arrived Thurs-

Mr. Tompkins stated to a paper man that a kinsman of the Al-lens, a reliable man, told him that ens, a reliable man, told him that soon after a hard storm he saw both Sidna Allen and Wesley Edwards in a mountain pass. He was only a few yards from them, and both men dodged into the bushes. They were both bearded and both showed signs of the exposure to which they have been subjected for more than three months.

A well known detective, who has been working on the case, is also of the opinion that the outlaws have never left the mountain fastnesses, and that they are still in hiding near their homes. Mr. Tompkins declared that there are plenty of peourine was full of ple in the section of the county where they are seen who will continue to furnish them food and sup-

MISSING AVIATOR REPORTED SAFE

DOVER, ENG.— Special.—Just as a second fleet of motor boats was straw leaving here to search for Avia-

'DIXIE FLYER"

THE BLACKSTONE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS

Has since 1894 given "Thorough instruction under positively Christian influences at the lowest possible cost." RESULT: It is to-day with its faculty of 32, a boarding patronage of 358 its student body of 412, and its plant worth $140,000

THE LEADING TRAINING SCHOOL FOR GIRLS IN VIRGINIA

$150 pays all charges for the year, including table board, room, lights, steam heat, laundry medical attention, physical culture, and tuition in al subjects except music and elocution. For catalogue and application blank address, REV. THOMAS ROSSER REEVES, B. A., Principal,

BLACKSTONE, VA.

Educational Advantages Unsurpassed College of William and Mary

A BREAST with modern educational advancement. Inaugurators of the Honor and Elective Systems. Degrees of A. B., B. S., and M. A. Special courses for teachers. All athletics under expert physical director. Fine athletic field. Healthy location. Total cost per session of nine months (board and fees) $228.00. Eight weeks summer session begins at Dublin, Pularki Country, Va., June 19th, offering regular college work and special teachers' courses. Write at once for particulars.

H. L. BRIDGES, Registrar, Williamsburg, Virginia

State Normal School

HARRISONBURG, VIRGINIA.

Ideal Location. New Buildings and Equipment. Professional Courses for the Training of Teachers and Homemakers. Special Facilities for Domestic Science, Music, Kindergarten, and Manual Arts. Training School of over 900 children. TUFFION FREE, $126 covers all necessary living expenses for nine months, 309 Students Last Session. Next Year begins September 25. For Catalogue, JULIAN A. BURRUSS, President Harrisonburg, Virginia. *******

AMERICANS ARE BADLY HANDICAPPED bread. Use one cupful of milk, one tablespoonful of butter, one-half of a

INJURIES TO SHEPPARD AND RYAN MAY KEEP THEM FROM COMPETING—ARE STARS.

STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN .- Special. STOCKHOLM, SWEDEN.— Special. When the liner Finland arrives here Saturday the American athletes on board will begin their final training for the Olympic games at once. It is expected that Trainer Mike Murphy will lose no time, but will have his charges in action within six hours after the arrival of the ship at her destination. her destination.

The injuries sustained by Mel.

The injuries sustained by Mel. Sheppard and Mike Ryan have proved more serious than first reported. Both men will be unable to compete, according to word received today.

The people of Stockholm are showing much interest over the coming of the Americans and a rousing greeting is being planned.

The games proper will begin Saturday, July 26th. day, July 26th.

>>>>>>>> IMPORTANT, MR HOUSE OWNER

Now is the time to have your house painted.

"NEVADO WHITE LEAD" or "NEVADO MIXED PAINT" is what you should use if you want your home to look well.

W. S. TANNER PAINT CO., Richmond Va.

are sole manufacturers.

Write for prices and color cards.

Woman's Department

}}

SELE SITE OF CRISES

NEW YORK—Special.—When the camability Philadelphia arrived Turns ay from Porto Rican ports she was seld up at quarantine and searched selling allowed to land.

Among the passengers on board in contract was made to prevent infection of the passengers of the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract was made to prevent infection of the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract with the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract with the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract with the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract with the passengers when the passengers were taken on board in contract when the passengers were taken on board in contract with the passengers when the passengers were derailed. The passengers were hereined from the passengers were derailed. The passengers were hereined from the passengers wer Orangeade is the Parisienne's favorite summer beverage for her complexion's sake, and she believes strongly also in lemonade to clear the skin and brighten the eyes. In neither does she take much sugar and she does she take much sugar, and she dilutes the lemon juice well with wa-dilutes the lemon price with less.

ROANOKE WILL HAVE
WET AND DRY FIGHT ter, taking the orange with less.

When the skin becomes overheated try putting a little baking soda into the water in which you wash. This will produce a cooling sensation which is very pleasant.

When a Girl Reaches the Silly Age. The complacent parents of a generation ago were inclined to believe that "the silly age," like measles, was an inevitable complaint of youth, and just as they underrated the danger of measles, so were they inclined to tolerate the other complaint with no great uneasiness. reat uneasiness.

Nowadays we do not hear of mothers deliberately exposing their chil-dren to the danger of infection from other small sufferers from measles so that they can "get it over," nor do they calmly fold their hands when they calmly fold their hands when the giggles are in the air and plead that she is "just at the silly age."

It may be wondered if the "silly age" has not entirely disappeared. The modern girl seems to grow up without passing through several phases of ninnydom which a former generation accepted as inevitable. Anyhow, if the "silly age" still exists its symptoms are less obvious, Anyhow, if the "silly age" still exists its symptoms are less obvious.

The "silly age" was a natural result of idleness. The old-time girls' school did not offer much serious work to its pupils. It only demanded that their speech and manners be gentic. Moreover, in well-to-do families, it was once thought no disgrace if girls left school in the middle of their teens and loafed away the years puril me and loafed away the years until one brought a husband. A girl thus rear-ed had little other resource than to be "silly" at an age when she would now e preparing for a profession.

Recipes. German Coffee Cake—German coffee cake makes an excellent lunch bread. Use one cupful of milk, one

DOVER, ENG.— Special.—Just as a second fleet of motor boats was a second fleet of motor boats with the same valentine. The fleet of search for Avising to fly to France, and who had not been heard from since, a telegram was received by the avlators been compelled but Nelstram was received by the avlators been compelled but Nelstram was fleet, and the been compelled but Nelstram was fleet, and the searching party set out in motor boats to look for his body. Channel boats to look for his body. Channel

ROANOKE, VA. Special.-Roanoke I have a local option election in the l, and many men who have former-been identified with the "wet" side

Just the thing to operate grist mills—electric light plants—cot-feed grinders—wood saws—corn shellers—well drills—all kinds mr and farm machinery requiring power. Guaranteed to develop horse power. All working parts on one side and in full view.

ALL KINDS MACHINERY AND SUF

P. to 500 H. P. Write for prices and catalogue to-day.

STOCKDELL-MYERS CO., Petersbir